ALBERTO PEREZ BERMUDEZ

HIV & AIDS Activist, Educator and Long-Term Survivor

Alberto Perez Bermudez is a long-term HIV survivor, husband, father, and community advocate.

Diagnosed with HIV in 1988 at age 18, Alberto has dedicated his life to educating others and challenging the stigma surrounding HIV.

Drawing from his own experiences, he focuses on supporting heterosexual, Hispanic, and Black communities, encouraging people to learn about HIV, take their medication as prescribed, and live positively.

Through his outreach, media appearances, focus groups, and community involvement, Alberto hopes to remind others that HIV does not define their lives and that sharing our stories can help create a more understanding and supportive community.

ALBERTO PEREZ BERMUDEZ

Activista, Educador y Sobreviviente del VIH a largo plazo

Alberto Perez Bermudez es un sobreviviente del VIH a largo plazo, esposo, padre y defensor de la comunidad. Diagnosticado con VIH en 1988, a los 18 años, Alberto ha dedicado su vida a educar a los demás y a combatir el estigma relacionado con el VIH. A partir de sus propias experiencias, se enfoca en apoyar a las comunidades heterosexuales, hispanas y negras, animando a las personas a informarse sobre el VIH, tomar sus medicamentos según las indicaciones y vivir positivamente.

A través de su trabajo de alcance comunitario, apariciones en los medios, grupos focales y participación en la comunidad, Alberto espera recordarles a los demás que el VIH no define sus vidas y que compartir nuestras historias puede ayudar a crear una comunidad más comprensiva y solidaria.
